

KERALA AIRCRAFT STATIC DISPLAY SHOW – 2011

Titan Aviation in partnership with Cochin International Airport Ltd (CIAL) is organizing the first ever "Kerala Aircraft Static Display Show – 2011" scheduled to be held on April 29th and 30th in Cochin International Airport, Cochin, Kerala. The aim of the event is to bring Business / Private Aircraft manufacturers, sellers and potential buyers from South India under one roof.

Also last month Titan Aviation co-sponsored the Heli Tourism Conference held in CIAL on 15th Feb 2011 to promote the concept of Helicopter Tourism and Helicopter Charter Operations in and around Kerala. "Within a month of Heli Tourism Conference, our commitment to organize the Aircraft Static Display Event shows the dedication and seriousness of Titan Aviation in promoting business aviation and aircraft charter services in India, especially in South India where we have offices in Bangalore and Chennai." says Cptn. Sakeer Sheik, MD, Titan Aviation.

Touted as "God's own country" Kerala is a popular tourist destination famous for its backwaters, ayurvedic treatment and tropical greenery. With a literacy rate of 94.59% Kerala has the highest Human Development Index than any other state in India and as per the Transparency International survey Kerala was ranked as the least corrupt state in the country.

Since 1990's the liberalization of economy has fuelled growth and job creation in Kerala. For example during 2007-2008 Kerala's GSDP was US$36.06 billion out of which 63.8% was contributed by the service sector including tourism, banking, finance, transportation and communications. This growth demands the need for faster and efficient mode of air transportation for the business community and high net worth individuals which can be provided only by means of private / business aircraft operations.

This show will provide a platform to introduce the concept of Private Aircraft / Helicopter ownership and the benefits of private air travel to the rich clientele of Kerala and South India. Titan Aviation will play the role of a mediator connecting aircraft exhibitors and potential customers from South India where as CIAL will take care of necessary arrangements for the Static Display of Aircraft, relevant infrastructure, security and support for the exhibitors and visitors.

About CIAL:

Cochin International Airport Limited (CIAL) was incorporated as a Public Limited Company with equity participation from the Government of Kerala, Industrialists, Non Resident Indians, Financial Institutions, Airport Service Providers and the Public. CIAL has come to be a model enterprise with the first International Airport in India outside the ambit of the Government of India, the first of its kind in the history of civil aviation in India and the story of its success is an embodiment of Kerala's business potential. For more information on CIAL please visit: www.cochin-airport.in

About Titan Aviation:

Titan Aviation is an aviation service provider with global presence, specialising in all sectors of aviation industry right from Business Aviation to Commercial and General Aviation. Titan Aviation's core activities include Aircraft Sales and Leasing, Aviation Human Resources, Aircraft Charter, Aircraft Management and Aviation Consultancy Services. Titan Aviation is built on strong principles of Quality Service and Value with transparent business practices. For more information please visit: www.titanaviation.aero